

REMARKS

Applicants have amended them claim 1 and canceled claim 2, which claim 1 can be allowed by examiner.

1.Claim 1 was objected to because of the following informalities: it does not comply with MPEP § 608.01(m) that requires each claim to begin with a capital letter and to end with a period. The capital letters should not be used in the body of the claim except for names. See Fressola v. Manbeck, 36 USPQ2d1211(D.D.C.1995). Appropriate correction is required.

The applicants have amended and corrected the claim 1.

2.Claim 2 was rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling separately for the permanent magnet embedded in one of the gears and the permanent magnet fixed around the shaft of the motor, does not reasonably provide enablement for simultaneously for both, the same magnet embedded in the gear and around the shaft of the motor. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, of with which it is most nearly connected, to use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

The applicants have canceled his Claim 2.

3.Claim 1 was rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Applicants have amended them claim 1 which claim 1 can be allowed by examiner.

Accordingly, the claim 1 is in the application for consideration by the Examiner.

However, applicant respectfully submits that none of these teaching, lithe alone or in combination, disclose or suggest the invention as defined by his claim, in view of the foregoing amendments and remarks, favorable consideration and allowance of claim 1 is respectfully requested.

While it is believed that the present application is now in condition for allowance, should the Examiner have any further comments or suggestions, it is respectfully requested that the address the undersigned to resolve any outstanding issues.

Respectfully submitted.
